Centering Blackness

> Centering Blackness:
> Translating the community, cultural, aspirational, navigational, social, linguistic, familial, and resistant capital wealth of black students into the success, goals and metrics of black students at SRJC. How are we understanding their community cultural wealth and its importance at SRJC.
> - (Take a look at Solonzo and Yasso, 2001)

- Examining the Human Resources Frame

    o Our goal is to create a guide, a process than can serve as a self-evaluation for all SEA funds programs
    o ISSC is going through a bit of this process, to see what works and what we can do o Concept brought by Jeremy: looking at complex process through the Four Frames, visit The Four Frames Website
    o For discussion in groups: looking at the first Frame from faculty and student perspective o What questions should be posed to project and programs for them to evaluate the human resource frame as related to Centering Blackness? How do we have projects and programs focus on this question about human resource?

- Move into 2 groups:
  - 1 Student Services: JamBoard Link
  - 1 Teaching Faculty: JamBoard Link

  - Address the question: What questions would lead programs/ to evaluate their current states as related to the frame of Human Resources?
